

PRODUCT SALES BREAKDOWN

Tools > Reports > Stock > Product Sales Breakdown

The Product Sales Breakdown displays a list of all product sales for each day over the specified date range. Only products marked as retail are included in the report. For each product that was sold, you can view the date, product line, employee, transaction number, client, quantity, any discounts, and the price. The last page of report displays the total quantity sold, total discounts and total amount received. The totals for each day are also displayed.

The Product Sales Breakdown can help you compare product sales between different days. It can also be used for cross checking your product levels, as it allows you to easily see details of all the products that were sold.

DATE

Each date is displayed with the products that were sold listed under it.
